The relation of migraine and gastric disturbance is a familiar example. Here mediation occurs through the centers of the vagus and the fifth nerve. Whether the afferent impulses come over the vagus or fifth nerve it is not always possible to determine. The syndrome sick headache is evidently a neurosis whether this neurosis is primarily neural, psychic, toxic, anaphylactic, chemical or physical, this does not modify the fact of the close integration of the centers of the vagus and fifth nerves, and the sensory and motor reflex symptoms resulting. Such visceral symptoms as nausea, vomiting, hyperchlorhydria, spastic con stipation, colicy pains etc., have frejuently been observed in connection with eye strain. The course of these reflexes is probably through the afferent sensory fibers of...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
