My Lord, I understand you not; you treat me as a child and gibe at me, mislike my dress and my complexion, and anon you plead as it were lover-wise for the pasture of my lips. If I be child you have no need of my kisses; if woman, I should claim not gibes, but homage. Methinks you are an actor that hath but ill conned his part. Sey. A shrewd guess and a shrewd thrust. Yesterday thou wert a child, to be clipped and chidden and cajoled. But tis a tricky sprite, Dan Cupid; and his darts strike deeper than we know. Thou art not the child of yesterday;--and methinks, have played my lover s part too well. Ah! Bess! Bess! There is a fire in my veins and I am hungry for thy lips....

Reviews

This publication may be really worth a go through, and a lot better than other. It really is written in simple terms and never difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
